Created by DeMarcus Berry

AUSTRALIAN & NZ BASKETBALL

"First of all, Australia has a fantastic development system.For a country of 24 million they have around a dozen NBA players in the league right now.
"So, pound-for-pound one of the best basketball countries in the world.
Adam Silver
NBA Commissioner

"I'm so impressed by the way every Australian plays. It's the way, as a coach, you want to see everyone play. That's what makes Australia such a tough opponent and you have to be prepared for that.
Greg Popovich
San Antonio Spurs/Team USA

A shortened season, no language barrier, first-class professionalism and the addition of a third foreign player per club made Australia a more desirable place for many former college players and fringe NBA players
Fran Fraschila
ESPN Analyst

"My dream has always been to get to the next level and play in the NBA. So, I think this was the best route for me to live like a pro and play with grown men every day, and not kind of have to juggle books and basketball.
RJ Hampton
New Zealand Breakers

OCEANIA REGION

Australian and New Zealand basketball has produced some great talent in the last 10 years. Both countries are experiencing increased participation and a surge of talent from the grassroots to professional level. Australia and NZ currently have 13 players in the NBA
